Summary

My name is Abdullahi Shehu Usman, a citizen of Nigeria and I am currently studying Bachelor of Computer Applications in India. I am a teenager, who is willing to learn new things around the world in terms of research, computing, and understanding how leaders contribute on a daily basis so that I will bridge the gaps in literacy and share knowledge and experience with the younger generation.

A life of mine full of wishes and want to be a good and fantastic programmer will lead me to bridge the gaps of literacy and share knowledge and experience with younger ones.

I have 4 months of experience in the IT department as a Data entry with HTML, CSS, and programming skills at Nigerian National Petroleum Corporation.
